

DTA London

The DTA London office is dedicated to providing advice, support and information to around 100 community organisations each year. Some in-depth consultancy and mentoring is delivered through members as practitioners, providing them with a source of income.

We promote development trusts' activities locally, nationally and internationally. Innovative tools are used to spread awareness of the work being done by development trusts in London. We spot opportunities for our members and constantly have an ear to the ground with our larger membership in mind. Sharing solutions, DTA London understands the needs of development trusts and supports them in being sustainable, a daptable and functional.
